

BACH CHORALES CORRESPONDING TO TLH, ELH, AND LSB (QUICK REFERENCE GUIDE)

In the “English Texts” column, the absence of brackets means that the text is the one Bach originally paired with the chorale setting. The presence of brackets indicates that the text is not the one originally paired with the chorale setting, but that the tune matches the melody of Bach’s setting. Multiple texts might pair with the tune in modern hymnals. When modern hymnals use a text other than the one Bach used with the tune, the hymn title is listed that corresponds to the text Bach used, and hymns that use the tune corresponding to Bach’s setting are given in brackets. The “Text” and “Tune” labels should make all clear. When hymnals vary significantly in the English translation of a hymn title, all titles are given. Besides the references to TLH, ELH, and LSB, this table is from <https://bach-chorales.com/BachChoraleTable.htm>. There is a Spotify playlist of all the Bach chorales in this document at the following link: <http://tinyurl.com/hymnal-chorales>. Compiled by Pastor Andrew Richard, Mount Hope Lutheran Church and School, Casper, WY. Many thanks to Luke Dahn, who operates bach-chorales.com and has made much of his research and indexing available there for free.
